

City Line Chiropractic COVID-19 Announcement

To Our Wonderful Patients and Their Families:

City Line Chiropractic has been closely monitoring the spread of COVID-19 through the CDC, WHO, state and federal government officials, and following all protocols. As healthcare providers, we are responsible for ensuring the health and safety of our patients, our staff, and our community at large.

For this reason, our office is currently open by appointment only. We are seeing patients who are in acute pain only. We will not be accepting any walk-in appointments at this time. If you are unwell, have a fever, cough, respiratory issues, or have been in contact with anyone who has been sick, unfortunately, we cannot treat you at this time. We are postponing all maintenance treatment for several weeks and rescheduling appointments to April until further notice. Our office and staff are still available for phone calls regarding future appointments and emergencies as they arise.

When you come into our office for a scheduled appointment, we will take your temperature. If you have a fever, you will be unable to receive treatment. We ask all patients not to sign in, to avoid sharing pens. One of our staff members will be happy to sign you in upon your arrival.

The staff members of City Line Chiropractic are taking all recommended precautions to protect our patients, including wearing masks, gloves, and thoroughly sanitizing equipment between each patient. If you prefer to wait in your car, please let us know, we will call you in when it is your turn to be treated.

The COVID-19 pandemic is a fluid and rapidly changing situation. We will keep our patients updated as we continue to evaluate the situation.

We are encouraging our patients and staff to do their part to keep everyone in our community healthy. Please continue to maintain social distancing and self-quarantine as much as possible, to be an active part of the solution.

If you have any questions, please call us, as our staff is always available to help. We thank you for your understanding and wish all of our patients and their families health & safety.

Respectfully,

Dr. John Seward & the Staff of City Line Chiropractic
