Dr. Galligan is a Chiropractic Physician, licensed in North Carolina for the care of humans, and has specialty Training and is certified in Animal Chiropractic through the AVCA (American Veterinary Chiropractic Association.) Dr. Galligan is not a veterinarian and cannot take responsibility for the primary care of animals. Concurrent care with your veterinarian is recommended. Dr. Gail is not responsible for establishing that relationship.

Dr. Galligan checks animal spines for vertebral subluxations. This is where spinal bones have become “stuck” which leads to improper joint function, and a lower level of health. Corrections, called adjustments, can lead to better health, and peak performance in animals as well as humans.
